

Spiders

Literature Connections

Aaaarrgghh! Spider by Lydia Monks (2004)

Anansi the Spider by Gerald McDermott (1972)

Are You a Spider? By Judy Allen (2000)

Be Nice to Spiders by Margaret Graham (1967)

I'm Trying to Love Spiders (It Isn't Easy) by Bethany Barton (2015)

Little Kids First Big Book of Bugs by Catherine D. Hughes (2014)

Miss Spiders Tea Party by David Kirk (1998)

National Geographic Spiders by Laura Marsh (2011)

Please Don't Step on Us by Casey Crayne (2011)

The Spider and the Fly by Howitt/DiTerlizzi (2002)

Spiders by Gail Gibbons (1993)

Spinning Spiders by Melvin Berger (2003)

There Was an Old Mummy Who Swallowed a Spider by Jennifer Ward (2015)

Time for Kids: SPIDERS by Nicole Iorio (2005)

Urgency Emergency: Itsy Bitsy Spider by Dosh Archer (2013)

The Very Busy Spider by Eric Carle (1984)

Online Resources

Click on the links to be connected to activities, lesson plans, and websites related to spiders.

Study of Spiders and Exploring Webs

Spider Facts

Spider Life Cycle Activities

BrainPop Spider

Spider Web Experiment

BrainPop Arachnids

Spider Web Art Project

Mentor Sentences Diary of a Spider

How many eyes does a spider have?

Spider and Fly Game

Why do spiders spin webs?

How does a spider eat? Experiment

Why don't spiders get stuck in their webs?

Spider Unit Example

How strong is silk?

All About Spiders Lesson Plan